

MU 106
The Art of Music
Fall 2008
Professor Joy Hirokawa
Office: Music Center 305, Phone: 610-861-1671 (office)
E-mail: jhirokawa@moravian.edu
Class meetings: Tuesday and Thursday 2:20 – 3:30 PM
Music Building Room 202
Office Hours: M – Th 11:30 – 12:30 or by appointment

Goals: This course is a general introduction to music of all types in contemporary society. Utilizing an integrated approach that includes listening, performing, describing, and analyzing, students will gain an understanding of the relationship between various musics, how music is used in society, and the relationship of music to history, culture and other arts. Music of the past and present, Western and non-Western traditions, and art music as well as popular trends will be included. This course is designed for non-music majors. No prior knowledge of music is required.

Materials:

Crossroads in Music: Traditions and Connections. Arved Larsen, gen. ed Thompson/Shirmer, 2003. ISBN#0-534-43389-8. Text/CD package with 4 CDs.

Academic Integrity: Students are expected to uphold the standards of academic honesty, as they are spelled out in the Student Handbook. Students are required to be familiar with copyright issues as well as the college policy on plagiarism.

Grading: Grading will be determined as follows:

- 15% Assignment #1
- 15% Assignment #2
- 15% Assignment #3
- 15% Final Assignment
- 15% Concert Assignment
- 15% Journal
- 10% Attendance and Participation

Expectations and Requirements:

- Music Reviews – Stretch your ears! Each student is required to write 4 reviews of musical activities during the semester. The four musical activities are:
 - Any performance at the Bethlehem Celtic Fest, Sept. 26, 27 or 28, 2008.
 - A concert selected from the “Music @ Moravian College Events Calendar.” Performance may be of any kind (including student recitals, faculty recitals, ensemble concerts, guest artists, etc, although the guest artists – Deborah Voigt on Nov. 12, Noche de Muertos on Oct. 22 or Voloshky Ukrainian Dance Ensemble on Sept 13 would be a really good choice.) Free tickets for performances requiring tickets may be obtained in the Music Office from Nancy Clark. Additional concert attendance is encouraged.
 - A religious service of any kind for the purpose of listening to the music being performed and observing how it is used in the service.
 - Viewing of a film of your choice, for the purpose of listening to the musical sound track and noting how music is used to support the visual elements and story line.
 - Ground rules: You must remain for the entire concert. The program of the concert (or ticket stub if no program is available) and a write up of your reactions to the program/performance should be submitted within one week following the performance. Two concert reviews are due by mid-term, and the second two due by the end of the semester. Written guidelines for this project will be distributed in class.
- Prompt attendance for each class.

- Assignments must be turned in on time. On time means at the beginning of the class on the due date, or the time indicated for electronic submission. The instructor will indicate in class if an assignment is to be submitted in hard copy format or electronically. Late assignments will be dropped to the next fraction of a grade for each day late (A- becomes B+, etc.) All written assignments should be word processed in Times New Roman font, 12 point, double spaced unless otherwise indicated. Length of written assignments will be indicated with each assignment.
- The Written Word – Every student needs to be articulate and be able to clearly express themselves in any number of situations. Correct grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, and spelling will be an important aspect in the grading of any written work you submit, as will any citations related to research.
- Electronic protocol – Cell phones must be disabled during class. Texting in class is unacceptable. While email is an absolutely fabulous tool, and a direct means of communication, it can also be pretty overwhelming when that inbox is continually full, and can be downright annoying if the questions asked in the email could have been answered by simply re-reading the information already given to the students! BEFORE you email me with a question, please review all your notes and papers to see if you can find the information on your own, or ask a classmate. Please do NOT email me with questions about an assignment the night before the assignment is due. Your question will not be answered and you will be flogged (figuratively) in class. On the other hand, I welcome considered questions and dialogue, and of course if you are at all confused about something, please ask. Remember that my door is (almost) always open (Office 305), so don't be shy.
- Disclaimer! – This syllabus should be considered a flexible document. As the semester unfolds, revisions may occur.

Major Assignments:

1. Analysis of Elements of Music (based on Chapters 1 – 9) due 9/18/08
2. Analysis and background of a selection from the unit on musical style (Chapters 16 – 27) due 11/6/08
3. Commercial/Popular Music Comparison to historical music, due 11/25/08
4. Final – Time Capsule Project due 12/9/08
5. Concert Attendance, two must be completed by 10/16/08, with the other two completed by 12/2/08
6. Journal of Music Observations and Perceptions due periodically throughout the semester. Do not fall behind on these assignments! Bring your journal to every class with the assigned questions completed. Journals will be collected without previous notice.

On-Line Resources:

- The online site for this book is http://www.wadsworth.com/cgi-wadsworth/course_products_wp.pl?fid=M20b&product_isbn_issn=9780534516345&discipline_number=2. You can navigate there by going to www.wadsworth.com, typing in the book name in the search bar, then clicking on companion site, and you will find a list of items available to you on the sidebar.
- Flashcards and outlines may be useful to you as you study the material and become familiar with the terminology.
- Quizzes should be taken at the conclusion of each chapter, with the results emailed to me at jhirokawa@moravian.edu. They will not be included in your grade, but will be helpful to me in determining everyone's level of understanding and deciding what needs to be revisited. They will also be helpful to you to determine what you need to study more.
