REQUIRED TEXTS: Abrams, M.H. et al., eds. The Norton Anthology of English Literature
(Major Authors Edition), 8th ed. New York: Norton, 2006.
Shelley, Mary. Frankenstein. New York: Signet Classic, 1965.
Theatre ticket (~$3). You are required to attend Moravian College
Theatre Company's performance of Growing Up Naked, Feb. 19-22.

COURSE OUTCOMES/OBJECTIVES: The purpose of this course is multi-faceted. In reading the assigned texts, we will not only become acquainted with specific works written by well-known British authors, but we will also familiarize ourselves with British literary history and the connections between literature and other forms of cultural expression, all of which information is valuable to any well-rounded student. Because literature is not just a record of facts or opinions, but a representation of reality, reading it well requires the ability to interpret its possible meanings. In this class, we will exercise our analytical skills, with the ultimate goal of enhancing our understanding and enjoyment of literature. Finally, since reading and writing go hand in hand, we will work on our ability to articulate our own experience of the texts that we read by writing essays about them, thus reinforcing our ability to both read well and write well.

COURSE METHOD: This course will consist of some lecturing, a good deal of both class and group discussion, essays, exams, and a number of short written assignments, both inside and outside of class.

EVALUATION: Essays (15% 25%), Midterm (20%), Final exam (25%), and assignments and class participation (15%). Grade Scale: 93-100=A; 90-92=A-; 87-89=B+; 83-86=B; 80-82=B-; 77-79=C+; 73-76=C; 70-72=C-; 67-69=D+; 63-66=D; 60-62=D-. It is within the instructor's purview to apply qualitative judgment in determining grades for any assignments and for the final course grade.

ATTENDANCE: I expect you to attend class regularly and promptly, to have completed the assignment, and to be ready for discussion. If you must be absent for some extraordinary reason, you must inform me in advance or supply a note from a legitimate authority. If you miss more than three classes without providing a written excuse, your grade will drop by one third of a letter grade for each absence. Missing a conference counts as missing four classes. Recurrent lateness will also result in a lower grade.

CLASS DISCUSSION: We all bring to our reading of literature a variety of skills and insights. By sharing these with one another, we enhance our joint effort to understand and appreciate the literary works at hand. I will count on everyone to try, regularly, to contribute to the discussion. To every class session, bring in at least one observation regarding the assignment. Your participation grade will reflect your regular, voluntary engagement in class discussion. Full attendance without such engagement will earn no more than a grade of C for participation.

Although some reading assignments—particularly poems—may seem short, your reading and full appreciation of these texts will require time and effort. You should expect to work 4+ hours per week outside of class preparing for discussion, in addition to preparation for essays and exams.

^{}Please turn off and put away all cell phones during class.

^{} Your midterm exam is on Fri., Feb. 27. Your final exam is on Wed., May 6 at 8:30 a.m.; adjust your travel plans to accommodate that schedule.

WRITING ASSIGNMENTS: A number of short writing assignments, inside and outside of class, will indicate to me how carefully you are reading and thinking about the material. The first essay will be a personal response. The second will be an analytical essay in which you will have the opportunity to present your own argument regarding a specific text that we have read. These essays should follow the guidelines outlined in the attached "Rubric," which will help you in writing coherently and persuasively. We will discuss these guidelines in detail in class.

Note: Due dates for essays are firm. If for some extraordinary reason you must be late, you need to talk to me before the essay is due. Late papers automatically receive a lower grade.

Homework assignments submitted apart from class (due to an absence, even if the entry is submitted in advance) or later than the start of class (unless typed) will receive no more than half credit.

ACADEMIC HONESTY: Cheating and plagiarism will not be tolerated. Plagiarism is the misrepresentation of someone else's work as your own. This includes such instances as quoting directly from a published work without giving the author credit (i.e. proper citation), inserting the author's words as your own, using or "borrowing" another student's work, buying a paper from a professional service, etc. It is your responsibility to be familiar with what constitutes plagiarism and, in the event of uncertainty, to ask in a constructive manner about a writing in question before it is due in a final version. You are also required to keep all note cards and rough drafts on papers and assignments until given a final grade for that course. Evidence of plagiarism and cheating will be dealt with in accordance with the college policy on academic honesty found in the Student Handbook. Please read this policy in its entirety. In the event of a suspected infraction – in fairness to your peers and the standards of the college – it is my job to send the materials in question to the Dean's Office at which time you are given the chance to provide your perspective on the matter.

ACCOMMODATIONS: Students who wish to request accommodations in this class for a disability should contact Mr. Joe Kempfer, Assistant Director of Learning Services for Disability Support, 1307 Main Street (extension 1510). Accommodations cannot be provided until authorization is received from the office of Learning Services.

READING ASSIGNMENTS: Readings must be completed by the day on which they are listed. This schedule may be revised as the course progresses. I will announce changes in class. If you are late or absent, it is your responsibility to become informed of any changes.

Whenever an introduction to a period or author is assigned, you should study this material carefully, since it will greatly enhance your understanding of the texts that follow.
