- perform and hear rhythms, including compound meters, ties and syncopation
- aurally notate diatonic melodies and rhythms
- take two-part dictations
- score read at least 2 parts at one time on the piano
- conduct standard patterns in 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 while sight-singing

Daily work and preparation of assignments

This course is designed to help you continue to develop written and aural theory skills. Class sessions will involve mostly experiential and “performed” work. Thus, class attendance and participation are essential and account for 25% of your grade. Excused absences will not count against you, but you must supply a doctor’s note if you are sick. Each unexcused absence will result in 5 points deducted from your attendance/participation grade. If you are absent, you are responsible for getting updated assignments from a classmate and coming prepared to your next class. If you arrive to class more than ten minutes late, you will be considered absent with the exception of weather problems or other circumstances beyond your control.

Your daily assignments and preparation are 35% of your grade. For each class you will be expected to prepare materials for oral performance, along with occasional written exercises. Late written work will not be accepted except under special circumstances.

Grades

The course grade is based on class preparation and assignments, attendance and participation, and four skill assessments. The participation grade reflects your attitude and enthusiasm in performance and interest in working on skills in class. Written assignments may be gone over in class, but you should be prepared to hand them in. There will be 4 equally weighted assessments given during the span of the semester.

The grade distribution is as follows:

Daily preparation/assignments	35%
Attendance/Participation	25%
Assessments	40%

Demonstrably prepared	Inconsistently prepared	Often unprepared	Consistently unprepared
A/A- 90-100	B+/B/B- 80-89	C+/C/C- 70-79	D+/D/D-/F 0-69

Academic Honesty

Students must adhere to college-wide policies on academic honesty as described in the Student Handbook.

Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities who believe that they may need accommodation in this class are encouraged to contact the Learning Services Office as soon as possible.
