Let the main object of this, our Didactic, be as follows: To seek and to find a method of instruction, by which teachers may teach less, but learners learn more; by which schools may be the scene of less noise, aversion, and useless labour, but of more leisure, enjoyment, and solid progress...

---John Amos Comenius, The Great Didactic

This course has two purposes. The first is to introduce you to the most current and, from the viewpoint of educational research, the most effective teaching practices. In this sense, the course will be practical. The second is to explore the psychological assumptions implicit in these practices. The major outcome to be expected of this course is an ability and willingness to examine your own beliefs about teaching in light of established principles of learning and teaching.

Although I will lecture occasionally, I prefer that most class sessions have a discussion format. I welcome questions about the material at any time, and encourage you to ask for clarification whenever you need it. Some of the material is difficult, and lectures are designed to clarify or illustrate principles and concepts. It is therefore important that the assigned material be read in advance of class.

Throughout the term we will discuss topics that are of immediate concern to teachers as well as of theoretical interest to researchers. In order to make the discussions more real to you, a field experience is built into the course. You will be placed in an elementary or secondary classroom as an assistant teacher for about four hours per week beginning the week of September 26. The cooperating teacher to whom you are assigned will maintain an attendance sheet. A minimum of 40 hours is required, but you are expected to attend at your scheduled time through the week of December 5 even if the 40-hour minimum is achieved. You must attend one of the two scheduled organizational meetings with the Education Department's Director of Field Experiences to complete questionnaires and receive information about this field experience. You cannot successfully complete the course without completing the forms at this informational meeting. The meetings will be held on Wednesday, August 31 at 5:00 PM in PPHAC 102, and on Thursday, Thursday, September 1 at 11:45 AM in PPHAC 102. You will need to have the following clearances in order to begin the field experience: The State Police Criminal Record Check, The Federal Criminal History Record, The Child Abuse History Clearance, and a TB test. You can obtain the TB test at the College's Health Center. In accordance with procedures developed within the Education Department, I will collect the original TB test documents from you to have copies made and then return the originals to you.

OBJECTIVES:

- Students will demonstrate an understanding of the major constructs and principles of social, emotional, and intellectual development.
- Students will demonstrate an understanding of the implications of developmental principles for effective learning and teaching.
- Students will demonstrate an understanding of the major constructs and principles of motivation and the influence of motivation on classroom learning.
- Students will demonstrate an understanding of the major constructs and principles related to cognition and memory as they apply to classroom instruction.
- Students will demonstrate an understanding of classroom management concepts and strategies.
- Students will demonstrate the ability to design formal lesson plans consistent with specific Pennsylvania State Standards.
- Students will demonstrate a familiarity with the Pennsylvania Standards Aligned System.
- Students will demonstrate the ability to apply and analyze concepts and principles discussed in class and reported in the professional literature to their field experiences.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Attendance will be taken in class. Each unexcused absence will result in a reduction of the participation portion of your final grade. Details are given in the section on course requirements.

Regular attendance at the field experience is essential. I am asking your cooperating teacher to provide you with a professional experience. This, in turn, requires a sense of professional responsibility from you. The cooperating teacher to whom you are assigned will maintain an attendance sheet. A minimum of 40 hours is required, but you are expected to attend at your scheduled time through the week of December 5 even if the 40-hour minimum is achieved. An unexcused absence in your field experience will result in termination of the experience and a failing grade in the course. If you must miss a scheduled session at your school due to illness or emergency, you must call your school and make sure that a message gets to your cooperating teacher and call Mrs. Modjadidi, our Director of Field Experiences, at 610-861-1473.

REQUIRED TEXT

Enggen, P. and Kauchak, D. (2010) Educational Psychology: Windows on Classrooms. 8th ed. Merrill/Prentice Hall.

EVALUATION POLICY

Each assignment will be given a letter or numerical grade based on a 100-point scale, and will have the following weight when determining your final course grade:

Quizzes (Definitions & Short Essays)	30 points (3 @ 10 points each)
Lesson Plans	15 points (3 @ 5 points each)
Final Exam	15 points
Reflective Responses to Readings	20 points
Reflections from the field	15 points (3 @ 5 points each)
Coop's Evaluation	5 points

The following grade conversions will be used in determining your recorded letter grade for the course:

94	-	100	=	A	74	-	76	=	C
90	-	93	=	A-	70	-	73	=	C-
87	-	89	=	B+	67	-	69	=	D+
84	-	86	=	B	64	-	66	=	D
80	-	82	=	B-	60	-	63	=	D-
77	-	79	=	C+	0	-	59	=	F

Letter grades given on assignments have the following numerical value:

A+ = 100	B+ = 88	C+ = 78	D+ = 68	F+ = 50
A = 95	B = 85	C = 75	D = 65	F = 0
A- = 90	B- = 80	C- = 70	D- = 60

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Quizzes/Exams

Three quizzes will be given on or about the dates indicated on the reading/topic schedule. A final exam will be scheduled.

Lesson Plans

Three formal lesson plans are due on the dates given below. The plans must all be related to the following Pennsylvania State Standards as given in the Standards Aligned System (SAS):

Lesson Plan 1: SAS Standard 9.1.3.E, due 9/12.

Lesson Plan 2: SAS Standard 9.2.5.K, due 10/26

Lesson Plan 3: SAS Standard 9.3.12.E, due 11/28

Detailed instructions will be distributed in class. Lesson plans may be revised and resubmitted.

Reflective Responses to Readings

You are required to prepare a one-to-two page response to the assigned readings for each class period. The responses must be word-processed and double-spaced. Each reflective response should be organized into three sections:

- An overview/summary of the readings highlighting the most important vocabulary, content and themes.
- A section that makes connections between the readings and your personal experiences as a student/family member/friend: Was there anything in the readings that were particularly meaningful to you? Why?
- A section of observations/questions that you would like to discuss in class. Some questions certainly can be clarifying ("What does _____ mean?"), but most should be higher level: how and why questions rather than what questions.

Reflections from the Field

You will write three 2 or 3 page papers reflecting on your field experience. Each of the papers has a specific focus, but the purpose of all is to integrate your field experience, in-class readings, and class discussion. Descriptions of the required content for the two papers are given below:

Reflections I: First Impressions (due 10/12) Discuss your school's and your classroom's structure and demographics: What is the geographic location of your school? How would you describe the community in which the school is located in terms of socioeconomic status and ethnic composition? How large is the school? Describe the physical characteristics/condition of the school. What is the grade level of your assigned classroom? How many students do you have? Relate your first impressions of your current placement to field experiences you've had in other classes or to your own school experience. Given this and past experiences, how do you think geographic, demographic, and such administrative issues as class size and the physical characteristics of the school/classroom impact student learning? Are your observations/beliefs on these issues consistent with current research as discussed by Eggen/Kauchak? Explain.

Reflections II: Student Behavior and Classroom Management (due 11/14) Discuss, with as much detail as you are able to obtain, the kinds of behavioral problems you are witnessing in your host classroom. Do there seem to be specific antecedent conditions contributing to those problems? If so, what are those conditions? How might they be changed to help alleviate the problems? Describe any management strategies, particularly behavioral strategies (praise, token reinforcers such as stickers or awards, vicarious reinforcement, assertive discipline strategies, modeling, point systems, token economies, self-regulatory strategies, etc.) that your cooperating teacher uses to manage her/his classroom. Discuss whether or not these strategies are effective. In what capacities have you interacted with students in your host classroom: individual/small group tutoring, teaching whole lessons, etc. What specific strategies have you used to maintain your students' focus? How effective were these strategies? Speculate on why these strategies were or were not effective.

Reflections III: What I learned in School (due 11/30) This is your opportunity to reflect on the value of this field experience to your professional development. Discuss the five (or more) most important lessons you've learned from this field experience.

Field Experience Evaluation

Your cooperating teacher's evaluation of your performance in your field experience will be calculated into your final grade. Violations of school district or college policy that require the Field Coordinator to file a report (This is most often a dress code violation) will result in a reduction of your field experience grade. However, an unexcused absence from the field experience will result in termination of the experience and a grade of F for the course. The Education Department will place the evaluation on file for consideration if you apply to the teacher certification program.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Students who wish to request accommodations in this class for a disability should contact Mr. Joe Kempfer, Assistant Director of Learning Services for Disability Support, 1307 Main Street (extension 1510). Accommodations cannot be provided until authorization is received from the Office of Learning Services.

POLICY ON ACADEMIC HONESTY

Recognized standards of honesty are part of the foundation on which the integrity of an academic community rests. Accordingly, the Moravian College Faculty adopted a statement on academic honesty, the standards of which will be strictly applied in this course. You are encouraged to read carefully the description of this policy, which is printed in your Student Handbook. If you are unsure about the propriety of a given procedure or approach for completing assigned work in this course, please consult with me before completing the assignment. Any breach of the College's honesty code will constitute grounds for the assignment of a failing grade in the course. Lesson plan ideas may be taken from another source as long as that source is properly cited. All violations of academic honesty reported to the Dean are shared with the Teacher Education Committee at the time the candidate's application for student teaching is being considered. In the past, such violations have prevented the Committee from approving some candidates for student teaching.
