English 101B American Literature

I. The object of this course is the study of the nature of literature and the development of American literature from its beginnings to the 20th Century by concentrating on major periods and trends and reading representative works of major writers.

II. Individual authors will be studied through biographical and literary readings and through lectures and class discussions. Students will be expected to participate in class discussions. Each student will also be responsible for an oral report of five to ten minutes, chosen by lot on a specific work and participation in a panel discussion.

III. There will be an expressive diagnostic paper, a referential paper worth 16% of the term's grade, a research paper worth 32%, one in-class examination worth 18% each, a final worth 18%, an oral report worth 8%, and a panel presentation worth 8%.

IV. All students will be expected to watch 9 of the 10 segments of an An Audio Visual History of American Literature on Blackboard.

V. All students will be expected to attend a performance of THE BOOK OF GIG by the Moravian College Theatre Company, and write a one page evaluation of the play. Cost and specific times will be announced later in the term.

VI. Attendance policy for English 101B is based upon the attendance statement in the current Moravian College Catalog: read, date, sign, and submit the accompanying paper.

VII. Essay examinations and papers will be expected to adhere to a minimum quality of Standard English. In addition, all students are expected to adhere to the revised policy on academic honesty that appears in the student handbook and the college catalog.
