Prerequisites: Economics 152; Economics 156 is recommended

Text: Olivier Blanchard, Macroeconomics, Prentice Hall, 2009, fifth updated edition.
Please bring it to class every day!

Objectives: The course explains the most important macroeconomic variables: GDP and its growth, inflation, and the unemployment rate. You will be able to:

- Use simple—and not so simple—economic models
- Appreciate the difference among models for different time horizons
- Understand fiscal and monetary policy and evaluate it using models
- Identify and evaluate drivers of economic change
- Apply your knowledge to current events, especially those in The Economist

Requirements:

Homework is due every time we finish a chapter or read an article. Doing homework is the best way to learn the material—and some homework problems are on the exams! Every typed and completed homework counts for 0.5% of your grade, up to 8%; it is not graded. I post answers to all HW on BB, and I review selected HW problems in class.

- If you received help or offered help to anyone else, write the name of the relevant person on your HW.
- Turn in all HW before class time on the day it is due. I do not accept late HW.

Three reading assignments: Find a recent, medium length economic article related to the class material. If the article is too short or too simple, you will not earn full credit. An excellent source is The Economist. Other good sources are major newspapers, such as The Wall Street Journal and The New York Times. Do not use blog entries, as they do not constitute full articles. The articles and their analyses are due in class the Tuesday after each exam, and they must be related to the material that was covered on the exam. The late penalty is 10% per day. Each article is worth 1% of your grade. For another 1.5% of your grade, explain the article using what we have learned. Specific instructions along with an example will be posted on Blackboard.

There are three exams, each one covering five chapters. I provide all formulas on the board. I also offer an optional final exam, which you can use to replace your lowest exam grade. There are no make-up exams. If you miss one of the three exams, you must take the final exam. You are not allowed to use phones or to leave the room during an exam. Doing so results in zero points on the exam.

Exam dates:                      Exam 1:        February 16 (Thursday)
   Exam 2:        March 22 (Thursday)
   Exam 3:        April 19 (Thursday)
   Final Exam:   May 3, 8:30 AM (Thursday)

Two short regression projects are assigned in connection with Chapters 8 and 9. A primer on econometrics appears on pp. A-12-A-16.

You must keep all materials (HW, reading assignments, and exams) that I have checked until you receive your final grade.

Expectations: Some of you will find economics challenging, but all of you can earn a good grade. For every hour of class time, you are expected to study an additional two hours. You must read the book, do the homework regularly, and study the homework assignments before each exam. I encourage you to see me during office hours, both alone and in groups. To ease your HW and exam preparation, I post slides and make announcements on Blackboard. Please check the site before each class!

Grading:                      Homework.....8.0%
   Articles.....7.5%
   Regressions.....8.0%
   Three exams.....76.5%

Grading Scale:

100+	A+	93 - 100.0: A	90 - 92.99: A-
87 - 89.99:	B+	83 - 86.99: B	80 - 82.99: B-
77 - 79.99:	C+	73 - 76.99: C	70 - 72.99: C-
67 - 69.99:	D+	63 - 66.99: D	60 - 62.99: D-	0 - 59.99: F

If half the class does not earn As and Bs, I curve the exams accordingly.

Attendance Policy:

I urge you to come to class regularly! Attendance does not enter your grade directly, but it matters indirectly. You will get a better sense of what is important. Listening to lectures and reading the text reinforce one another. Moreover, attendance allows you to interact with your classmates and learn from them.

Academic Honesty Policy:

I encourage you to study in groups and to discuss all homework, but you must write your own answers and the names of all students in the study group on your homework. If you copy your answers from existing handouts, another student, or the web, you will receive zero for the whole HW assignment. If you let another student copy from you, you will also receive zero for the whole HW assignment or exam. Note that the punishment is the same for both parties. I offer this advice: If a student asks you for a copy of your HW, do not give it to him/her. Be nice and agree to offer verbal help.

Beware of plagiarism! Changing a few words in the original is still plagiarism.

If you are lifting phrases (three words or more) or definitions from the textbook or the web, use quotations marks and provide the page number or the URL.

All figures must be accompanied by a source. (E.g., in the third quarter of 2011, GDP in Iceland grew 0.5% (The Economist, 12-18-10, p. 141)).

If you fail to use quotes or to provide a proper citation, you will get zero for the HW or assignment.

Special Accommodation:

Students who wish to request accommodations in this class for a disability should contact Mr. Joe Kempfer, Assistant Director of Learning Services for Disability Support, 1307 Main Street (extension 1510). Accommodations cannot be provided until authorization is received from the office of Learning Services.
