COURSE DESCRIPTION

The physical, psychological, relational, and cultural aspects of sexuality influence us from before birth through death. This course will employ interactive class work, lecture, and readings to increase your understanding of lifespan human sexuality; to engage you in critical thinking about sexual messages and issues; to help you identify and critique your sexual values and attitudes; and to enable them to make informed relational and sexual decisions. Due to the nature of the subject matter, classroom discussion and educational materials may incorporate language and images that will challenge your comfort and attitudes.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of this course, you will

- Gain a broader and deeper understanding of human sexuality from a biopsychosocial perspective
- Critically reflect upon your sexual values, experiences, attitudes and beliefs
- Understand diverse sexual attitudes and behaviors
- Increase your knowledge about sexual health and behaviors

Disclaimer - This syllabus is subject to change throughout the semester; you will be notified of any changes.

Cross Cultural Views of Sexual Health Education	2%
How Will We Love Viewing and Answers	3%

Extra credit:

Extra credit may be granted at the professor's discretion for above-and-beyond effort (an A+). No extra work will be assigned or accepted to help you make up for low grades on assignments.

Points earned for assignments and attendance will be scaled to 100 before being factored into your final grade. When graded assignments are returned, you have one week to contact me with questions or concerns; thereafter, the results are fixed. Quantitative and qualitative standards are used to determine assignment grades.

Grading Scale

A = 100 – 94	B+ = 89 – 88	C+ = 79 – 78	D = 60 – 69
A- = 93 – 90	B = 87 – 83	C = 77 – 73	F = 59 – 0
	B- = 82 – 80	C- = 72 – 70

POLICIES

Academic Honesty

It is your responsibility to follow the college's standards of academic honesty as published on page 8 of your Student Handbook. Plagiarism and cheating are prohibited and will result in failure on the assignment in question.

Accommodations

Students who wish to request accommodations in this class for a disability should contact Elaine Mara, assistant director of learning services for academic and disability support at 1307 Main Street, or by calling 610-861-1510. Accommodations cannot be provided until authorization is received from the Academic Support Center.

Attendance

Attendance in class is expected and required, as the interchange and involvement in class sessions is an integral part of learning and cannot be replicated through other means. More than one unexcused absence will result in the deduction of 2 points per missed class from your attendance grade. Chronic lateness and early departures will factor into your attendance grade.

Courtesy

The use of personal electronics (phones, recording devices, etc.) is prohibited during class. Laptops are discouraged because they can distract you and others around you.
