

Philosophy 120: Introduction to Philosophy

Instructor: Dr. Jason Bowers
Office: Comenius Building

Email: TBA
Office Hours: TBA

Course Description

All philosophical thought, no matter how complicated or extensive, begins with the examination of a few simple puzzles. The purpose of this course is to acquaint students with a few of the most famous such puzzles, both from history of philosophy and in its contemporary practice. Topics for this course will include matter, the mind, death, art, and time. By the end of this course, students will be able to read professional academic articles on the topics covered, and begin serious academic work of their own.

Texts

All of the required readings will be posted online for free. These readings are taken from the following sources:

The Australasian Journal of Philosophy
Benatar, Better Never to Have Been: The Harm of Coming into Existence
Campbell, Body and Mind
Carroll, The Philosophy of Horror, or: Paradoxes of the Heart
Conee and Sider, Riddles of Existence
Fisher (ed.), The Metaphysics of Death
Ihde and Zaner (ed.), Dialogues in Phenomenology
Le Poidevin and MacBeath (ed.), The Philosophy of Time
Lewis, Philosophical Papers, Vol.1
Rosenberg, The Practice of Philosophy
Rosenberg, Thinking Clearly About Death
Sorenson, Seeing Dark Things: The Philosophy of Shadows
The Southern Journal of Philosophy
Tomberlin (ed.), Philosophical Perspectives, Vol.10
Van Inwagen, Ontology, Identity, and Modality: Essays in Metaphysics
Van Inwagen, The Possibility of Resurrection
Zimmerman (ed.), Oxford Studies in Metaphysics, Vol.2

Work and Grading

There will be four unit-based exams, each of which is worth 15% of your final grade, one final exam, which is worth 20% of your final grade, and one final paper, which is worth 10% of your final grade. The remaining 10% of your final grade will be determined by class participation, which includes not only attendance but also discussion and impromptu writing assignments.

Group Work Policy

There will be no group work assigned for this course. Any collaboration on papers or exams will be counted as plagiarism.

Late Work Policy

No late work will be accepted without a medical excuse. All medical excuses require documentation from Student Health Services.

Academic Honesty

Moravian College adheres to an Academic Honor Code, which contains the following summary paragraph in the Moravian College Student Handbook:

“Students may not submit homework, computer solutions, lab reports, or any other coursework prepared by, copied from, or dictated by others. If the student is employing the services of a tutor (whether from the campus community or elsewhere), the tutor may not prepare the student's work for class. ... Students may not provide or receive unauthorized help in taking examinations, tests, or quizzes, or in preparing any other requirements for a course. Such restrictions are illustrated by but not limited to the following:

- Using unauthorized material in an examination, test, or quiz.
- Using crib notes in any form, regardless of who prepared them.
- Using calculators or any other hand-held electronic devices unless authorized by the instructor.
- Using e-mail or text-messaging during any exam without the permission of the instructor.
- Stealing, using, or transmitting in writing, electronically, or verbally, actual examinations, tests, quizzes, or portions thereof prior to, during, or following an exam.
- Reading or observing another's work without the person's consent, whether it be on paper, in electronic form, or in any other medium.
- Soliciting or using a proxy test-taker or acting in that capacity.”

You are responsible for knowing what counts as academic dishonesty. If you do not understand these guidelines, or are not sure how to apply them, see me immediately.

Cell Phones and Other Class Disruptions

Turn off your cell phones and stow them when you enter class. Do not check your cell phone, or send text messages, during class. Do not listen to an iPod, MP3 player, or any similar device while in class. You may take notes on a laptop computer, but do not surf the web, play games, or check email during class. Drinks of water, trips to the bathroom, and the like should all be handled before class begins, or else after class ends.

Absence Policy

By signing up for this course you undertake to attend all classes and lectures. Excused absences require documentation. Classes missed for athletic or religious reasons must have similar documentation, and must be discussed with me at the start of the semester. Five or more unexcused absences will result in an F for the course.

Religious Observance Policy

You must inform me in writing the first week of class if you will be missing any classes due to religious observances. Any absence for religious purposes will be considered unexcused unless you submit the request in writing the first week to both myself and the Registrar.
