Office: 610-625-7902

Email: ungerc@moravian.edu

Hours: T & Th 12:00-1:00 & by appointment

EDUC333 is designed to help you help students in grades 4 through 8 learn important literacy concepts, skills, and strategies. The theory of literacy instruction as well as the implications for practice will be explored.

Students in EDUC 333 must have:

- 1. A minimum grade point average of 2.7
- 2. Completed EDUC 160
- 3. Passed the PPST in reading & writing

MEETING THE NEEDS OF STUDENTS IN GRADES FOUR THROUGH EIGHT:

The Pennsylvania Department of Education's Framework for Grades 4-8 Program Guidelines (p.6) states that, "The Professional Core courses, competencies and experiences for the grade 4-8 teacher preparation program should be designed to address the broad set of issues, knowledge and competencies that are relevant to middle level teaching and learning. The program must prepare teachers who will be able to ensure students' mastery of academic standards and the content assessment anchors." In addition the, "Professional Core for middle level teacher preparation must include:

- The organization and philosophy of middle school education.
- Young adolescent development.
- The fourth through eighth grade curriculum.
- Skills necessary for middle level instruction.
- Use of data for assessment.
- Effective classroom management strategies.
- Current skills in the use of education technology.
- Design of successful interventions responsive to the needs of individual middle level students.
- Experience with monitoring the results of interventions designed to address the needs of individual middle level students."

EDUC 333 is a literacy methods course designed specifically to address bullets 3, 4, and 7 above. In addition, bullets 6 and 8 will be introduced and then further developed in field experiences. EDUC 333 is to be taken after students have successfully completed the introductory courses EDUC 100.2: Introduction to Education of English Language Learners and EDUC 160: Culture, Community and Diversity. These courses include Stage 1 and Stage 2 field experiences. In addition, students should have completed their coursework in Computer Technology, Including Students with Disabilities, Instructional Design, and Methods of Assessment. EDUC 333 will build on the foundations laid in those courses. EDUC 333 is to be taken while students are also taking EDUC 358: Pre-Student Teaching Field Experience. EDUC 358 is a Stage 3 field experience where students will be able to begin putting into practice methods and skills they are learning in EDUC 333.

REQUIRED TEXT:

Tompkins, Gail. (2013). Language Arts: Patterns of Practice, Ed. 8.NY: Pearson.

McAndrews, Stephanie. (2008). Diagnostic Literacy Assessments and Instructional Strategies. DE: IRA BlackBoard is required for this course. Most buildings are wireless.

FIELD COMPONENT STATEMENT:

The purpose of the field experiences is to provide students with appropriate classroom experiences in a developmental and sequential manner. All field experiences are directly related to coursework and must be successfully completed to pass the education course. Students are required to follow all the procedures and guidelines as outlined in the field experience handbooks, and course syllabi. Failure to accurately report attendance and performance will be considered a violation of academic honesty policy and will result in appropriate sanctions as outlined in the Student Handbook. The Director of Field Experiences is responsible for securing all field placements. Students will be placed in field experiences only when all required clearances documents are current and indicate, "no record exists". Students are also required to have a negative result on a current tuberculosis test.

OTHER INFORMATION:

Absence Notification = Attendance in class is very important. Should a personal emergency arise it is important that you let me know this as soon as possible. This will assist me in the design of small group team projects. Please call when you are going to be absent for that day. Missing any class without a phone call or e-mail prior to class time will significantly lower your overall grade. If you are ill, you must give me a doctor's excuse for an excused absence. If you do not have an acceptable reason, your final grade will reflect it. Attendance is of critical importance in order for you to participate actively in discussions, etc.

Food = Water is allowed, but we will be moving around too much to be eating.

Cell Phones = Turn them off. If there is an emergency, you can make arrangements with me before class. If your cell goes off, you will be asked to bring in a snack for everyone the next day we have class. If you text message in class, you will loose all your participation points.

Expected Work Load - For this course, it is expected that you will work between 6-10 hours for preparation outside of class for each week. You also may be asked to apply some experiences in a field experience that you will be having during the time of this course.

References and formatting = Use the Publication of the American Psychological Association, (Current edition) for references. All papers should be word processed with a readable 12 font. You will be expected to provide accurate documentation and proper citations for all your written work.

Plagiarism: Always cite your sources if the ideas are not original. If you transcribe words from another work, identify the passage as a quotation and cite the author. If you paraphrase, cite the source. Academic dishonesty will result in notification to the Academic Dean, in accordance with College policy. This will result in a failing grade if rules were broken. This course will follow all the rules for Academic Honesty as found on AMOS.

Grading:

Your performance in all areas will be graded in accordance with Moravian College's standards of academic achievement as stated in the Student Handbook.

94-100 %	Α	90-93.99 %	A-
87-89.99 %	B+	84-86.99 %	В
80-83.99 %	B-	77-79.99 %	C+
74-76.99 %	С	70-73.99 %	C-
67-69.99 %	D+	64-66.99 %	D
60-63.99 %	D-	0-59.99 %	F

F= This indicates failure.

D= 64-67% (D- = 60-64%) (D+ = 67-69%) These grades indicate unsatisfactory work, below the standard expected by the college.

C = 74-76% (C- = 70-73%) (C+ = 77-79%) You meet all requirements adequately.

B= 84-86% (B- = 80-83%) (B+ = 87-89%) You go beyond the requirements enhancing your work by doing such things as adding additional resources, related areas or topics, etc.

A= 94-100% (A- = 90-93%) Your work is definitely outstanding. It goes beyond requirements and shows perception and insightfulness. Extraordinary!!! Everyone can earn an "A" if they care to, though not everyone will put forth the necessary extra effort and time.

It is within the instructor's purview to apply qualitative judgment in determining grades for all of your assignments and your final grade for this course.

Late work:

 A written explanation handed in on due date; the "Work" will be evaluated and lowered only a half grade if handed in by the end of due week; an additional late week with written explanation means one grade lower.

Written work requirements:

- All handed in written work needs to be done on a computer. Use your spell checker.
 Meaning and mechanics both are graded.
- It needs to be organized and identified.
- Points cam be lost on any written work that is not word-processed.
- Please do not hand in work in the plastic page holders.

Professionalism:

Since this is a course to prepare students to think and act like professional educators, it is expected that students' attitudes and behaviors reflect those responsibilities. Attendance, punctuality, and coming prepared to learn, and collaborating with others are all professional behaviors. These behaviors are important to acquire and are needed for this course. Each person will need to be actively involved with class discussions, prepared to present given tasks to the whole class and remain engaged while others are presenting. Assignments and readings must be done to develop a community of learners. Attendance and participation will be calculated and averaged. It is worth 10% of your total grade.
