Course Description and Objectives

German 105 is a continuation of German 100 (Introductory German I). This course is an introduction to and practice of elements of language structures in the classroom through oral and written exercises as well as class participation and homework assignments. Reading, writing, listening and speaking the language will be taught and practiced throughout the course. This course provides students with a sound basis for learning German as it is spoken and written today. Students will have the opportunity to communicate in concrete situations, engage in basic conversations, master the basic features of the sound and writing systems, and utilize a basic vocabulary. This course will also cover an introduction to contemporary life and culture in German-speaking countries.

Additional materials will be provided by the instructor; actual or on-line English-German dictionaries are unnecessary for this course.

		B-	80-82	C-	70-72	D-	60-62

note: it is within the instructor's purview to apply qualitative judgment in determining grades for an individual assignment or for a course

Explanation of Assignments

Grammar Tests / Vocabulary Quizzes

Grammar to be tested includes all explanations found in Neue Horizonte and on provided worksheets. Grammar will be tested for use in context. Vocabulary quizzes include assigned word lists from Neue Horizonte as well as word lists provided by the instructor. Students will be required to translate words and phrases. Each chapter will include one grammar test (75% of your grade) and one vocabulary quiz (25% of your grade).

Projects

The written project will be a two-part assignment given at the beginning of the semester. The oral presentation will be based upon the written project. It is expected to last from seven to ten minutes and will be scheduled near the end of the semester.

Homework

Written homework assignments are due the subsequent class period. If you miss class (which you are highly discouraged from doing), it is your responsibility to obtain a copy of the homework assignment from the instructor or from a classmate. For assignments in the workbook (AB), the procedure is as follows: complete the assigned exercises and then refer to the answer key provided by the instructor. Use a red-ink pen to make the appropriate corrections to your work. The workbook pages are also due the subsequent class period and count as two assignments. Late submittals of homework assignments cannot be accepted. note: on-line translation services (Google Translate, etc.) should not be used when completing assignments, as they only hinder the foreign-language learning process

Class Participation

Learning a foreign language requires active class participation at all times; passive participation (simply attending class, taking notes, looking attentive, etc.) will not be factored into the participation grade. All food items, gum, candy and beverages are not allowed during normal classroom instruction, unless approved in advance by the instructor as part of cultural awareness exercises. All personal devices are to be turned off during normal classroom instruction; needed instructional materials can be found within the required textbook and workbook as well as within supplemental items provided by the instructor. Unless dictated by religious or cultural tradition, the wearing of hats or other articles of clothing that obscure defining facial features is not allowed during normal classroom instruction.

Class Attendance

Students are expected to be punctual for class instruction; unless otherwise informed by the instructor, students are also expected to remain in the classroom for the full period duration. Notify the instructor in advance of anticipated absences due to unforeseeable circumstances. Unexcused absences will result in a lowering of your semester grade.

Academic Honesty

Plagiarism and cheating will be handled according to the Student Code outlined in the current Student Handbook and in the Statement on Academic Honesty at Moravian College.

Learning Disabilities and Classroom Accommodations

Students who wish to request special accommodations in this class or for exams due to a disability must contact Elaine Mara, Assistant Director of Learning Services for Academic & Disability Support in the lower level of Monocacy Hall or by calling 610-861-1401. Accommodations cannot be provided until authorization is received by the instructor from the Office of Academic & Disability Support.

Project: Berühmte Deutsche

Written Presentation

Part One:

Pick one or several famous people who lived / live in Germany or in a German speaking country. Talk about why you picked that person / these people, their upbringing / lives, why they became famous, what everybody should know about them, what interested you the most. The assignment should be written in essay-form, typed, double-spaced, and a minimum of two pages; properly cite all utilized links at the end of your essay. This can be done in English.

Part Two:

In German, write a letter to a friend about this person / these people. It should include a minimum of seven facts. Use the letter format provided on page 180 in your textbook Neue Horizonte. The assignment should be typed and double-spaced.

Oral Presentation

Present a short biography of the person / people from your written presentation to the class in complete sentences. Show pictures of and talk about the person / people you chose. This presentation is to be done in German and should last seven to ten minutes. The use of flashcards with simple prompts is allowed, but NOT with complete sentences.
